

Combining the best of both worlds DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings

Visual cues like body language, eye contact, spatial distance and tone of voice are still best perceived when people meet in person. This also includes person-to-person experiences such as socializing and networking, therefore in-person meetings are still crucial.

In parallel, the need for remote meeting participation is rapidly increasing as a highly efficient option for conferences moving ahead. It brings many positive effects such as increased workplace flexibility, reduced travel costs and a smaller carbon footprint.

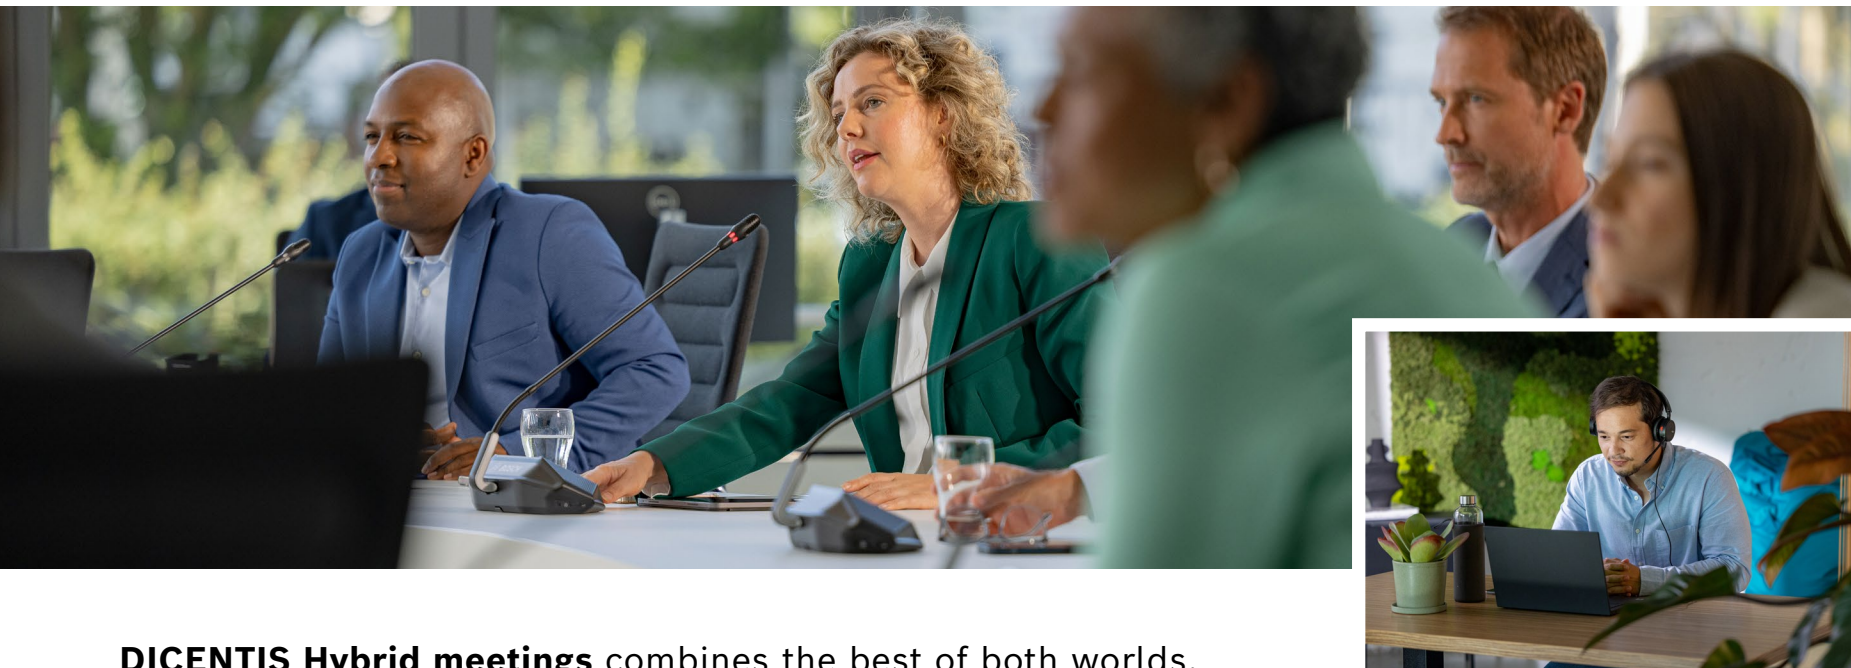

Providing equal participation with all professional functions that are needed for conferencing is key in this environment. Therefore, Bosch is evolving from standalone conference systems to end-to-end hybrid solutions, creating a flexible meeting environment to maximize efficiency and effectiveness.

Invented for life

BOSCH

DICENTIS Hybrid meetings combines the best of both worlds, with an efficient mix of on-site and remote participants, representing the future of conferencing in professional meeting environments like councils and boardrooms.

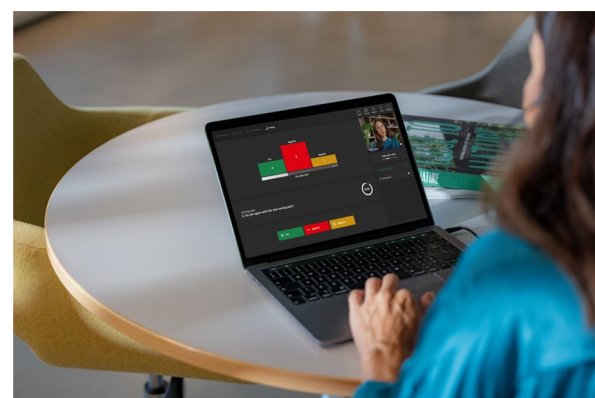

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings is a complete end-to-end solution that ticks all the boxes for highly efficient, legally compliant meetings. It offers specific functions for professional meetings to ensure a complete and stable conference workflow – centrally controlled over a straightforward, intuitive interface for the chairperson/meeting manager. The seamless hybrid meeting environment provides everyone with equal participation options in a familiar, easy-to-use software interface, providing a perfect meeting experience. Regardless of physical location, each participant is fully involved and enjoys the same speech priorities, voting rights, simultaneous language interpretation and content sharing options.

Fully native, end-to-end hybrid meeting solution

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings is a professional hybrid conference solution with a seamless workflow that does not require complex interfacing with third party remote participation solutions – a single supplier solution with hybrid participation at the core of the conference system, ensuring optimal security, reliability and maintainability.

Optimized meeting experience

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings ensures equal contribution, involvement and information for all participants, regardless of the location. It includes an intuitive, browser-based user interface for remotely connected participants that ensures a consistent meeting experience with the same professional features as if attending the meeting in person. Next to this, all relevant meeting data like active speakers, agenda items and voting are clearly shown on the hall display(s) of the meeting room as well as in the remote participant application.

Convenient meeting control

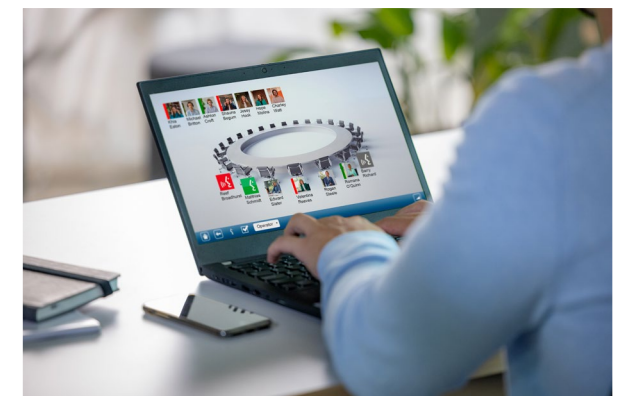

Chairpersons or clerks in the meeting room can control hybrid meetings from one central control interface in the same way as in-person meetings, with all functionalities available – such as speaker timers, request list, response mode, voting with quorum, majority, voting weight and timers -- and with automated reporting that processes local and remote participant data in a tamper-proof format.

Ensured security and compliance

Complying to ISO standards and following the highest Bosch guidelines for product and cloud security, DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings is fully encrypted to eliminate unauthorized access and safeguard all data.

Carefree cloud hosting managed by Bosch

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings includes all required fees, regular software updates, specialized support and Bosch-managed cloud hosting, providing the highest availability, reliability and security. Customers can enjoy true peace of mind.

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings

Convenient, connected and confidential

DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings is a complete end-to-end conference solution that ensures you highly efficient, legally compliant hybrid meetings. Our offering provides you with highest security and peace of mind through a carefree service that includes all necessary fees, regular software updates, specialized support and Bosch-managed cloud hosting. Interested in learning more?

Please contact your Bosch sales representative for more information and/or a demonstration of the DICENTIS Hybrid Meetings solution.

Your Bosch sales contact is:

for mailto:

mobile:

Bosch Security and Safety Systems
Visit www.boschsecurity.com for more information.

© Bosch Security Systems B.V. 2023
Modifications reserved.
BT-CO/Bosch_DICENTISHybrid_LL_EN_1